Judges Comments:

Disappointing class with far too many wines lacking in attention to detail (from fruit ripeness/artefact winemaking/bottling). Top wines showed good balance and concentration with fruit/oak handling and winemaking artefact. A lot of winemaking artefact is trending to too many sulphides which could have been treated/handled better.

Strong class of well made wines. Best wines with varietal fruit intensity.

Judges Comments:

A lot of wines obviously rushed into bottle as most were lacking final bottling (either fining/additions) protocols. Are some of these wines being pushed to the market far too early??

Judges Comments:

A reasonable strike rate from a very diverse group of wines. The better wines showed varietal definition, depth of flavour and drive on the palate. The usual suspects with problems wines - fermentation issues, lack of varietal definition and too much oak etc.

Some excellent examples of other varietals showing good varietal character and fruit balance. Again, non-awarded wines were lacking in attention to detail.

Aromatic freshness was rewarded in a mixed and diverse class.

Judges Comments:

Mixed class with too many wines lacking intensity, balance and generosity. Top styles had charm and fruit balance. Far too many wines suffered from lack of bright colours.

Many wines still looking quite juvenile, awkward and simplistic. Top wines have fruit intensity and interest.

Strong class of good wines.

Judges Comments:

Challenging class. The three most important attributes are (1) balance (2) balance and (3) balance.

Good diverse styles on show, once again proving Shiraz suitability across Australia. Too many overripe, overcooked and over-extracted exhibits.

A varied class showing the gammit of Shiraz styles. Top wines had great fruit intensity and were well balanced with oak/acid/tannins. Unfortunately there are still too many wines suffering from premature oxidation and poor handling - along with poor attention to detail.

Solid class of well made wines. Best wines fresh, varietal with fruit dominant, not oak.

Judges Comments:

Too many wines carried too much oak and lacked balance. Some wines were overripe and suffered accordingly.

Best wines fresh and soft, many wines extractive, oaky and hard.

Judges Comments:

Very disappointing to see so many wines suffering from premature ageing (too many browns). Colour seems to go hand in hand with wines not being carefully looked after. Too much oxidation and associated faults. Better wines showed better vibrancy and structure, but ultimately lacked fruit generosity.

Judges Comments:

Top wines showed fruit purity and freshness with good use of oak. A number of wines had spoilage problems, over/under ripe notes or excessive oak.

Judges Comments:

A real miss match of a class of varying styles. Some were very good being archetypal of the style. Too many wines suffered from ripe fruit and inattention to detail. If wines are going onto the market and are meant to be drinkable - why is so much oak being used?

Judges Comments:

A class of varying styles with some good examples of fresh and drinkable sparklings. Some wines suffered from very poor attention to detail with the base wines - the sparkling process will amplify even the smallest fault. Sugar balance is still a problem.
